The AI-Powered Intelligence Advantage

Infera is an AI-powered Sales Intelligence Platform that runs deep research on any prospect, automatically.

A sales rep enters a company name and domain. Within minutes, a multi-agent AI pipeline produces a complete intelligence brief: company profile, tech stack, decision makers, competitive gaps, GenAI opportunities, cloud adoption roadmaps, and matched funding programs.

The result: a sales rep walks into any customer meeting fully briefed in the time it used to take to simply Google the company name.

The Pre-Meeting Bottleneck

Hours of manual research drag: Every meeting starts with the same painful loop across news, LinkedIn, and tech spy tools.

Scattered insights: Research lives in fragmented browser tabs, Slack threads, and half-finished docs.

Under-briefed reps: Meetings start with the wrong decision-maker priority and no strategic angle.

Missing budget unlocks: Cloud-native funding matches and modernization grants get missed.

No organizational memory: Last quarter's research on a similar prospect is unrecoverable.
